

BISSELL TO RETIRE FROM THE CABINET

POSTMASTER GENERAL WILL RESIGN VERY SOON.

When Congress Adjourns the President's Former Law Partner is Likely to Lay Down His Burdens—Efforts to Patch Up the Breckinridge-Heard Mess.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Postmaster General Bissell will resign on the adjournment of congress. This was announced today on good authority.

Efforts are being made to restore peace between Heard and Breckinridge, who is the chairman of the committee on the district of Columbia, became angered because the Hawaiian question was being brought forward in the time devoted to his committee, and attempted to secure the floor. The beginning of the controversy was not plain, but suddenly both members sprang toward each other.

Mr. Breckinridge, shouting, "You cur, scoundrel and liar," struck at the member from Missouri a fierce blow which missed him.

Instantly they were seized by other members, but struggled fiercely to get at each other, shouting "liar."

Mr. Pence of Colorado had Mr. Breckinridge by the throat and Mr. McCreary of Kentucky climbed over several seats and held him by the shoulder. For three or four minutes there was a wild scrambling resembling a football rush, while all the members in the house poured into the aisle and the greatest confusion reigned.

The pounding of the speaker's gavel could not be heard, but Mr. Crisp's voice rang above the tumult shouting: "The sergeant-at-arms will arrest the members and bring them before the bar of the house."

Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms Isaac Hill rushed down the aisle bearing the great mace, followed by his assistants. The two members were then brought up before the speaker's desk, two men on each side holding their arms and Representative Dockery of Missouri standing behind them. Mr. Breckinridge was exceedingly red in the face, while Mr. Heard, who is a slender man, was ashen pale and trembled like a leaf.

The speaker ordered all to take their seats. Many of the members did so reluctantly. After all the members were seated he ordered both Mr. Heard and Mr. Breckinridge back to their seats and then recognized the Kentuckian.

With his frame trembling with excitement, his silver hair tumbling back from his forehead, Mr. Breckinridge began his apology in humble tones.

"No one," he began, "can regret more than I that any personal difficulty should occur on this floor, but when I thought I had been taken off the floor with great rudeness I went to Mr. Heard and said to him he could not do business in that way. He replied that that was an insolent statement and that I was an impertinent scoundrel."

"He said I was a scoundrel," interposed Mr. Heard.

"He called me a liar," went on Mr. Breckinridge, ignoring the interruption. "I ought not to have resented it, Mr. Speaker," he continued, turning to the chair, "but, as a Mississippi judge once said, the lie was the first assault, and in spite of my gray hairs I could not restrain myself. I apologize to the speaker and to the house. To the gentleman, I will say," he added, as he turned and looked squarely at Mr. Heard, his voice rising to one of defiance, "I will say that that can not remain between he and I."

A scattering burst of applause greeted this.

Mr. Heard then explained the situation, denying that there had been any discourtesy in his treatment of the Kentucky congressman. The gentleman from Kentucky, in what he regarded as most offensive language, had called him an insolent and impertinent something.

"He followed," said Mr. Heard, his temper rising, "that statement with a practical assault on me. He called me a scoundrel."

"If I said that I withdrew it," interrupted Mr. Breckinridge. "I do not think I said it."

"And I believe he did say it," said Mr. Heard.

"If after my disclaimer the gentleman still insists I said it," retorted Mr. Breckinridge, again flaring up, "I withdraw it; he does not deserve it."

Mr. Heard hastily denied that he intended to question Mr. Breckinridge's veracity, but stated that he meant in his excitement the gentleman from Kentucky had forgotten what he did say.

"I stated," he continued, "that the gentleman lied. Upon his withdrawal of his offensive epithet I will withdraw mine, but not before. I believe that I have done nothing which was not my duty and right to do." Mr. Heard was also applauded when he took his seat.

Without paying more attention to the episode the house settled down to the routine business.

Through the mediation of friends of both parties an amicable adjustment of the difficulties was finally arranged. Both gentlemen made formal apologies to the house and to each other, and at the request of Mr. Goodnight the entire colloquy was stricken from the record. Thereupon Mr. Heard went over to

Mr. Breckinridge's seat, and the late adversaries shook hands.

The incident seemed to have stirred up the combativeness of several of the members, many minor wrangles following. Finally the resolution was adopted without a division and with little opposition. It calls upon the President to transmit all correspondence or information regarding the report that the rebels against the Hawaiian government were incited, supplied with arms, and partly led by persons who claimed to be British subjects, and that the minister of Great Britain intervened in order to prevent the application of martial law to those concerned in the rebellion who claimed to be British subjects.

The report was, after some discussion, received, with permission given to the other members of the committee to file views. Then, at 5 o'clock, the house took a recess until 8 o'clock. The night session was devoted to the consideration of private pension bills.

DEBATE ON FUNDING BILL.

Bowers Condemns Methods of California Opponents.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The house met at 11 yesterday and gave an hour to the debate on the Pacific railroad funding bill before taking up the District of Columbia business, to which the day was to be devoted by an order made on Wednesday.

Mr. Bowers of California opposed the bill bitterly. In doing so, however, he severely condemned the methods pursued by some of the California opponents of the measure, notably Mayor Suro of San Francisco, who had been flooding members with frantic appeals to kill the bill.

Bryan (dem., Neb.) also opposed the bill, which he said dealt with two classes, those who had been guilty of mismanagement and those who would use the lines in the future. The real purpose of the bill, he said, was stated by Mr. Powers when he said that most of the stock was held in New England. They wanted dividends and the men who robbed the road wanted immunity. Mr. Caruth (dem., Ky.) consumed the remainder of the hour with a speech in favor of the bill.

AMENDS THE NICARAGUA BILL.

All After the Senate Enacting Clause Is Ordered Stricken Out.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The house committee on commerce yesterday considered Senator Morgan's Nicaragua canal bill, which passed the senate, and decided to strike out all after the enacting clause and substitute the house bill. Mr. Mallory will report the action to the house. One member preferred the senate bill.

Representative Dalzell (Pa.) introduced a bill incorporating the Maritime Canal company of North America and to authorize the construction of navigable canals through the United States between the great lakes, the St. Lawrence river, and tidewater in the Hudson river. The company's head office is to be in New York city; its capital stock is to be $10,000,000; it may have an interest bearing debt of $200,000,000, and is empowered to construct the works indicated above.

TELLER DECLARES HIMSELF.

Will Prevent Legislation That Does Not Recognize Silver.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—In the senate yesterday during the financial discussion Mr. Teller made the following declaration: "I realize," said he, after pointing out the distress following the demonetization of silver, "that a critical period has been reached. I realize that the agencies of wealth and high positions are against us. But I am not craven enough to be frightened by the contempt that may be heaped upon me when I say that I will see to it that so far as this session is concerned there shall be no hasty and weak legislation that would carry out the fell purpose now being attempted." The senate held a brief executive session, and adjourned.

Statement of the Public Debt.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The statement of the public debt issued from the treasury department yesterday shows that Jan. 31 the public cash in the treasury amounted to $24,446,269, an increase for the month of $13,542,574. The cash in the treasury is classified as follows: Gold, $57,553,776; silver, $507,087,334; paper, $140,872,456; general account, disbursing officers' balance, etc., $16,155,715; total, $761,470,332; against which there are demand liabilities amounting to $616,867,028, leaving a cash balance of $144,603,304, of which $44,705,967 is gold reserve.

TRADE BRIGHTENING SAYS R. G. DUN & CO.

REPORT ON THE WEEK'S BUSINESS MORE FAVORABLE.

January Closes With the Lowest Average Prices for All Commodities Ever Known—Unprecedented Exports and Withdrawals of Gold—Week's Failures Listed by Agencies.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

"Things look better near the close this week, because it is believed that a new loan will be negotiated. There was need for relief, since January closed with the heaviest exports of gold in any month and the heaviest withdrawals of gold from the treasury, $43,468,108, the hope of the new loan being the one thing which has lifted prices during the last few days. January leaves behind it the lowest average of prices for all commodities ever known; for cotton, iron and its products, wool and silver, the lowest monthly average ever known; and for wheat a range above the minimum, but yet declining rapidly toward that point. Industrial operations have not materially diminished, though it has been a disappointing month because the revival has not come."

"The continued drift of money to New York shows scanty commercial demand in the interior and no improvement appears here in commercial loans. In short, business is still waiting, and finds reason for hesitation in the condition of the treasury."

"Speculation has not favored producers. Wheat is half a cent lower, but western receipts were only 1,226,012 bushels, against 1,579,217 last year, and with exports larger than last year might have helped prices had not the visible stocks been so large. Corn is 2 cents lower, with receipts about half and exports not one eighth of last year's. The cotton movement continues large and the maximum crop estimates are encouraging, but there is not a little hope that the decrease of acreage this year by concerted action may help the planters. Neither here nor abroad does manufacture promise nearly the maximum output of consumption. Iron and steel look less encouraging at the east and the demand is disappointing, although prices are not weaker. Textile manufactures can not score improvement for the week, for though print cloths have advanced a shade the demand for other cotton goods is only moderate and prices are unusually irregular."

Wool is so low that large sales for possible futures continue and the total at the chief markets for four weeks has been 33,157,065 pounds, against 25,127,150 two years ago."

"Failures for the last week have been 34 in the United States, against 370 last year, and 54 in Canada, against 52 last year."

GORDON TELLS HIS TALE.

Says the Steamer He Hit Was Able to Run Faster Than His Boat.

ROTTERDAM, Feb. 2.—Capt. Gordon of the British steamship Crathie, which is generally admitted to have been the vessel which ran into and sunk the Elbe, has made a statement to Lloyd's agent here in which he says he was knocked down by the force of the collision, and that when he regained his feet the two ships were some distance apart and the Crathie was so damaged that he expected it to sink at any moment. In spite of this, Capt. Gordon added, he followed the other steamer, but found that it went faster than the Crathie, and so he thought the vessel it had collided with was safe. The Crathie has been sequestered at this port. Her captain has been detained.

MEXICANS ARE READY TO FIGHT

Workingmen Assure Diaz of Support—An Immense Congress to Be Held.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 2.—The various industrial organization of this republic are making elaborate preparations for an immense demonstration in favor of the Mexican government in its dealings with the Guatemalan question. Fifty or more unions which will take part will be called to order as a congress in this city Feb. 4 and their members asked to enlist as volunteers to fight for the republic in the event of war with Guatemala. Aside from workingmen's unions from all over Mexico, delegates will be present from the colonies of Mexicans living along the border in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California and who have already expressed their readiness to fight for their mother country when needed. Enthusiasm is running high among all the labor organizations of the country and the gathering is expected to be a large one.

A large committee, representing the united labor organizations, was received by President Diaz at the palace. The chief executive was addressed at length on the feelings of patriotism which inspire the workmen at this time of pending danger to the republic and its institutions.

Gen. Diaz replied that it was very gratifying for him to see that now as in all times of war in Mexico, justice and right had found defenders in those ready to use the cannon and unsheath the sword, and that it was a great pleasure for him to serve such a country, where its people at all times observed the religion of patriotism. He still hoped the dispute with Guatemala might remain within the boundaries of diplomacy and be settled without the spilling of Mexican blood, but this did not detract from the pleasure it gave him to feel that come what might the people would stand together in a common cause and for a common defense.

The president begged his auditors to use at all times great discretion in their demonstrations of patriotism, and by word or deed offend no one, as by this way only the dignity of the nation in general could be sustained, which should be the wish of every citizen as it is of the government. In closing, the President again thanked the workingmen for the honor they had shown him in Mexico and the practical proof they had presented that if Mexico should be in need its integrity and honor would have the backing of 10,000,000 Mexican defenders.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 2.—A cloud of experts will be called in by the defense in the Hayward case to prove the wound received in the head by Miss Geng was not caused by her being thrown into the road but by some weapon. If the expert can show this it will disprove Claus Blixt's confession. It is also claimed Adry Hayward is insane. If this can be proved and Blixt's confession can be shaken, the defense will have established two points of great importance in proving the innocence of Harry Hayward. ## CHARTER REVISION PUT IN GOOD HANDS

COMMITTEE TO MEET NEXT MONDAY NIGHT.

Five Citizens and Five Aldermen Were Appointed With Dr. Palmer as Chairman by Mayor Thoroughgood And They Ask That Suggestions be Filed With Them.

The first step toward the reorganization of Janesville's charter will be taken on Monday evening, when the committees appointed will meet for that purpose. In the meantime all who have suggestions to make are requested to formulate them and submit them to some member of the committee before the meeting is held. Dr. Palmer, the chairman of the committee, has issued the following call:

The committee appointed by the common council of the city to take into consideration the proposed changes in the charter and ordinances of the city, are requested to meet at the council room Monday evening, February 4, at 7:30 o'clock.

All persons desiring a change in the charter or ordinances are requested to formulate the changes they desire and submit them to some member of the committee prior to their meeting Monday evening. HENRY PALMER, Chm.

The revision of Janesville's city charter was placed in competent hands last night when Mayor Thoroughgood announced the gentlemen composing the citizens' committee as follows:

First Ward—Dr. Henry Palmer.
Second Ward—Oscar F. Nowlan.
Third Ward—George G. Sutherland.
Fourth Ward—C. C. McLean.
Fifth Ward—Henry Crane.

The members of the council who are on the committee:

First Ward—F. S. Baines.
Second Ward—C. D. Child.
Third Ward—F. S. Winslow.
Fourth Ward—Fred Kothman.
Fifth Ward—Ed. Smith.

The matter of revising the charter and preparing such alterations as are demanded will be left in the hands of this committee. The special meeting of the council last evening was very brief, and after calling the roll, Mayor Thoroughgood opened the meeting by addressing the aldermen as follows:

Most Act Quickly.

GENTLEMEN OF THE COUNCIL: This meeting has been called for the purpose of considering what steps, if any, shall be taken towards the changing of some of our present ordinances, and laws governing our present finances and other matters for the interest of our city. What is done must be done promptly as no new business will be considered by our present legislature after the 12th of February next, and I hear make special mention that the committee which may be named tonight, will get together as early as a date as possible for the consideration of matters tending to the interest of the city. I believe this way the most satisfactory one. The gentlemen comprising the committee will consider carefully and report their findings to the council. Several matters which would be beneficial to the city will perhaps receive their attention.

Alderman Child—"I move that the mayor appoint a committee such as he has suggested, and that these matters be referred to it for consideration."

The motion was unanimously adopted and Mayor Thoroughgood said:

Named The Committee.

GENTLEMEN: I will announce as the committee under the resolution you have adopted, the following gentlemen: Dr. Henry Palmer, George G. Sutherland, O. F. Nowlan, C. C. McLean and Henry Crane as citizens' committee; Aldermen C. D. Child, F. S. Baines, F. S. Winslow, Fred Kothman and Ed. Smith of the council.

In appointing these gentlemen members of this important committee, my aim has been to make it non-partisan and at the same time place upon it men who are interested, not only in the welfare of Janesville, but also in the advancement and development of its interests. I believe all these interests can be safely trusted in such hands. If we fail to secure the necessary relief in such hands, the fault will not wholly be with the common council.

As above stated, no party lines are drawn here; there should be no politics in this, nor should there be any east or west side, but a clear study for the best interests of the whole city, and hope never to hear the word gerrymander used when the work is done, but would like to see steps taken to relieve the city of some of those old time laws which today do not fill the bill and have become so through Janesville's legitimate growth.

Paving Bills Paid.

Alderman Child, of the finance committee, reported in favor of allowing a number of bills against the various funds, which was concurred in and also presented orders which were adopted, directing the payment of $906.69, balance due M. H. Curtis on West Milwaukee street paving and curbing contract, and $200. to Merchants' & Mechanics' Savings bank, from the South River street paving fund on the John Martin contract.

Mayor Thoroughgood stated that City Attorney McElroy would be included on the charter committee as legal advisor, and that Dr. Henry Palmer was chairman, and the council then adjourned. All the aldermen were present except Alderman Baines, Rich, Cunningham and Smith.

The shipments are picking up again. The movement in old leaf continues in the same quiet methods as for some time past.

The growers are busy now with their stripping when the other work will permit.

Several dealers have started in to gather up sample packings of the new crop which will be put through the sorting rooms before any general buying will be done.

The extreme cold weather, ranging below zero most of the time during the week, has doubtless prevented tobacco dealers from riding in the growing district as much as they otherwise would.

BLACK ART AND LOVE COULDN'T BE MIXED

THE "SORCERESS OF FULTON" WANTS A DIVORCE.

Mrs. Clendenning, Who Could "See Things" in The Clouds and Predicted the Stone Murder, Couldn't Find Conubial Happiness With All Her Mysterious Skill.

From the husband of her bosom, Mrs. Martha Clendenning "the sorceress of Fulton" now wishes to be divorced, and thereby hang round weird tales than A. Conan Doyle or H. Rider Haggard ever dreamed of.

Mrs. Clendenning was one of the picturesque figures in the Ashton murder case. Many Janesville people will remember a tall gaunt woman who sat bolt upright in her seat during the whole trial. From the immense hat that she wore a half dozen blood red artificial roses nodded and her dress was of fantastic design. She wore a "just-wait-until-I-get-on-the-e-s-t-a-n-d" look and was much impressed apparently with her own importance. She was not called to testify, but she had stories to tell that would have been of interest. She claimed that the Sunday before Mrs. Stone's death, Matthew Ashton sent for her and told her that Mrs. Stone must be gotten out of the way and asked her if she could suggest a way to do it. There was no way of corroborating her statement, however, so it was valueless to the prosecuting attorney.

She attended the funeral of Mrs. Stone and while there she charged Ashton with killing her.

"Mrs. Stone was murdered," she said to him, "and you murdered her."

Ashton made no reply. This declaration was made in the presence of witnesses, so that much at least, of her story was true. After her talk with Mr. Ashton, at the time she claimed he sent for her, she shook her head wisely and predicted that "there would be a death in the big house within a week." When asked who was to die, she said she did not know. She made many dramatic charges and told them in a vivid manner but they could not be substantiated although some of them dovetailed in nicely with the other evidence. She was in great demand in Fulton where she had quite a reputation for mind reading and fortune telling. Daniel Stone was said to have called upon her frequently, and many people had more or less confidence in her power. She resided not far from Edgerton and, if reports are true, she was an odd looking character. Her pet horse was a very large bay and she always drove him hitched to a road cart. She wore a large sun bonnet, and apparently drew a great deal of satisfaction from a black clay pipe.

While Mrs. Clendenning was able to see strange things in the clouds; distinguish fairy forms in the mists and peep into the future with an unerring eye, she was unable to discover anything real in the line of conubial bliss.

Divorced Once Before.

This was shown by the fact that she had been divorced once previous to her marriage with her present husband, her name, at the time she put her head through the matrimonial yoke the second time, being Mrs. St. John.

She continued to devote her time, thereafter, to her profession, until 1891, when J. C. Clendenning appeared upon the scene. Then cupid exerted his subtle influence and the black art gave way to the gentler feelings of love. J. C. wooed her successfully and during that year they went to Madison and were married. Clouds began to gather, however, and upon them there was inscribed no joy that Mrs. Clendenning was able to read even with all her sorcery. The mists were dark and gloomy, and in 1893 J. C. turned up missing. Mrs. Clendenning alleges, in the papers filed with Clerk of the Court Goldin, that he has not returned and that she has been left in a cold, hard world with nothing but a small homestead and the black art to support her. Therefore she prays that she be freed from the said J. C., who ruthlessly broke his marriage vows while she preserved hers intact. Just when the case will be tried remains to be settled upon. Attorney Metcalf, of Edgerton, appears for her, and as yet J. C. has not put in an appearance.

Stockholders' Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Loan, Savings & Building association of Janesville, Wis., will be held in the municipal court room, Monday, February 4, 1895, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., for the election of officers for the ensuing year and the election of three directors to serve three years each. ## FINERTY A FIGHTER IN LIBERTY'S RANKS

MAN WHO LECTURES HERE HAS A HISTORY.

Active In The Tipperary Uprising He Was Compelled to Leave For America, Where He Fought For The Union and Afterwards Took a Hand in Fenian Moves.

Hon. John F. Finerty, who will be heard in connection with M. J. Murphy, the noted singer, next Thursday evening, is a man with a record. In 1861 he delivered a stirring patriotic speech at Slieve-na-moon, in the County Tipperary, which so aroused the people that the authorities compelled young Finerty, then a mere lad to leave the country. He came to this country, enlisted in the Federal army, served to the close of the war and came out a non-commissioned officer. The Fenian movement then sprang up and he became one of the leading spies in it. In 1876 he became war correspondent for the Chicago Times and served in the great Sioux and Apache campaigns under Generals Crook, Miles and Gibbon. While in this capacity he saw some pretty hard service and was with Lieutenant Sibley in his famous scouting expedition, one of the most daring exploits in modern warfare. On his return to Chicago he founded the Citizen, of which paper he is still the editor. Mr. Finerty is one of the ablest orators on the lecture platform in this country, and is unexcelled as an Irish historian.

The lecture will be given in the Union Catholic League hall. Tickets will be fifty cents, and the same tickets admit to the dance, to be held later.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1491—Sir Owen Tudor, grandfather of Henry VII of England, killed.
 1651—Sir William Phips, famous as governor of Massachusetts, born in Pemquid, Me.; died 1855. He had 20 brothers and 5 sisters.

 1888—Mary Howitt, English authoress, died at Rome; born 1804.

 1894—The famous war correspondent, Edward A. Bess, who was killed at the battle of Little Bighorn in 1876, was wrecked during a storm on Roncador reef, in the Caribbean sea.

The conduct of this administration has not been such as to demand the respect of the Japanese, but the victorious Japs must not get their heads turned by victory so far as to be unable to distinguish the Cleveland administration from the American flag. One is backed by one of the fragments of a disorganized political party, the other by 10,000,000 men ready and willing to fight if "Old Glory" isn't respected.

The congressman who claims to have voted for the bill containing a clause for the restoration of the franking privilege to congressmen without knowing that it contained such a clause, pronounces his own unfitness to be in congress. It is the first duty of every congressman to thoroughly acquaint himself with all measures before they are voted upon.

The declaration of Senator Hill that the course of the anti-administration democrats is, from a party standpoint, "suicidal, demoralizing, unpatriotic," will have no influence with those democrats who have been shut out alike from the "pap" trough and Mr. Cleveland's dinner table.

If Mexico and Guatemala go to war both countries should be allowed to open recruiting offices at Washington. No excuse for not enlisting should be given to those democratic congressmen who are professedly so anxious to fight.

The administration has done more towards alarming the country about its finances than have the men who have withdrawn the gold from the treasury.

Any fool with wheels in his head can make financial theories while you wait, but theories put no gold in the treasury.

To slightly paraphrase the language of the late lamented Gen. Dix: If any man attempts to pull down the national credit, shoot him on the spot.

Mr. Cleveland ought to be able to get valuable pointers from the fable of the sun and the wind.

Senator Hill is in danger of overdoing his new role of administration champion.

More than 90,000,000 Passengers.

Have been carried by the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Ry. during the past twenty-five years. Very few were unable to find any fault. The rest were delighted. One of them recently said—"For several years past I have made from two to four trips each month between Chicago and New York and almost always accompanied by from one to three or four others. I believe (as I am informed by your conductors), that I have made more trips between Chicago and New York than any other man during the past few years. I have always traveled over your road in preference to any other, because by careful comparisons with others I have found not only that the road itself is far superior, but the table and the service are in every respect the best of any roads I have ever traveled on. The conductors, stewards, waiters and porters I have found to be uniformly courteous and attentive, adding greatly to the comfort of those who are obliged to travel as much as I am. Trains leave Chicago as follows: 3:00 a. m., 10:30 a. m., 3:25 p. m., 5:30 p. m., 8:45 p. m., daily, and 11:30 p. m. daily except Sunday. H. S. Barlow, T. P. A., 139 E. ## A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M, 2d N. Y. Cavalry and of the 13th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows: "Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, Heart and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have now no words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies."—Solomon Yewell, Marion, Ind., Dec. 3, 1892. These remedies are sold by all druggists or a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. They positively contain neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

WORKED J.H. WATSON WITH A BAD CHECK

RESTAURANT MAN FOOLED BY A STRANGER.

Officer Kruse a Little Better—W. B. Britton Sprains His Ankle—Alderman Baines' Escape From a Railroad Accident Near Columbus, Ohio Other News of The Town.

It has just leaked out that J. H. Watson, proprietor of the West Milwaukee street restaurant, was slightly "touched" by the forger who played his game on Floyd Murdock. About that time a stranger called on Mr. Watson. He said he was employed on the new high school building, and that he wanted board and lodging for a few days, but Mr. Watson told him he must pay in advance. The stranger had no ready cash, but he did have a seven dollar check on the First National bank which he was willing to put up as security. Watson took the check for board, and gave the stranger a room which he occupied that night, and nothing has been seen of him since he left the breakfast table next morning. Mr. Watson found that the check was worthless at the bank soon after and thought he was getting out of it pretty easy, so he didn't say a word about it to anyone.

In speaking of Dr. Halsey's lecture, an Orfordville correspondent says, after outlining the subject matter, that "seldom indeed, in a village of our size, one is favored with an opportunity of enjoying an entertainment of this character. Of late many eclectic physicians have claimed that Dr. McFarich did not thoroughly represent their ideas and was not thoroughly qualified to set on the board as the exponent of their faith. We are willing to admit that under certain conditions it might be classed as out of order. ## LOCAL SHOE FIRMS MAKE STIFF RULES

TERMS TO BE MORE RIGID THIS YEAR.

No Guarantee on Leather Hereafter, and Different Arrangements as to the Return of Goods—Retailers Will Be Benefited By This Late Move.

Janesville shoe manufacturers are interested in the formation of a state association for self protection. Manufacturers in the state have been figuring with this idea in view for some time, and recently several meetings have been held toward that end. The matter that is causing so much disturbance with the manufacturers is that of guaranteeing the material of the boots and shoes sold and the question of prices and credits. Some time ago the leathersellers resolved to no longer guarantee the wear of leather and it is this that has brought about the present dissatisfaction among the boot and shoe manufacturers in the state.

According to the statements made by a prominent dealer there is more in the matter than is shown on the surface. He said:

The Business Is Large.

"There is a wide, deep-seated conviction in the minds of the boot and shoe manufacturers in this state that there is something out of joint that must be corrected. We sometimes underestimate the importance of our business, but statistics will show that there is not less than $1,000,000 in this traffic every year, including every branch from tanner to the retailer, in this state.

"There are several subjects which we have under consideration and probably the most important one is that of credit. To illustrate: A few days ago a customer paid a bill of several hundred dollars to a retailer. She had bought a pair of French kid shoes for $6.50—the best that the firm could give her—and in three months had returned them all cracked and broken. She demanded a rebate because they had not lasted six months. The claim was rejected, but for fear of losing her patronage the salesman was ordered to satisfy the customer's claim, and did so by giving her a pair of slippers.

The Question of Credit.

"This illustration takes in both matters that are all important to the boot and shoe men because it shows the extent to which credit is sometimes carried and illustrates the folly of guaranteeing our goods. As a matter of fact we will always have to more or less guarantee goods, but we want to get away from it as much as possible. Then a great many of us feel that it is not advisable to extend credit to persons who compel us to recognize their claims, such as I have illustrated, for fear of not getting our money. On the other hand, we risk losing the custom of one who might purchase several hundred dollars' worth of shoes in a year.

"Another thing has to be corrected in the practice that exists with salesmen, of squeezing a woman's foot into shoes two or three sizes too small for her. In such cases something is sure to burst and as the fault is with the retailer he should be made to stand the loss. The only thing that the manufacturer should be called upon under all circumstances to guarantee and make good, in case of any just claim, is the workmanship.

"In order to meet the increased cost of material and to maintain the present standard of our goods, we must do something to bring about better prices. Just how we are to accomplish anything in this direction is hard to say, but a way will be found, and that soon."

Drawing Jurors.

Notice is hereby given that on Saturday, the 16th day of February, A. D. 1895, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, of said day, at the office of the clerk of the circuit court for Rock county, Wisconsin, at the court house in the city of Janesville, in said county, the petit jurors to serve at the April term of the circuit court for said county, for 1895, will be drawn according to law.

THEO W. GOLDIN, Clerk.

Dated February 2, 1895.

SCANDAL FOLLOWED M'CONNELL'S DRINK

WELL KNOWN TEMPERANCE LECTURER LAPSES.

After Holding Audiences Spellbound He "Backslid" and Went to a Keeley Cure—Friends Have Confidence In Him and Externate His Fall From Grace.

Janesville people were much astonished when a note was received announcing that Will J. McConnell was taking treatment for the liquor habit at Chicago.

McConnell, who is well known here as a temperance lecturer and advance agent for "The Waifs of New York," had been holding audiences spell bound with his pictures of the evils of drink and had reformed many drinkers. Some time ago it was reported that he had "backslid" but his friends refused to believe it. Letters were written by him to friends, saying that he thought some of coming to Janesville later on, and would give his friends a call. This reassured them but a day or two ago a letter was received at Clinton from the Barton Institute, Chicago, saying that McConnell was taking treatment there, and that he desired friends be notified.

McConnell worked in Clinton three weeks and was well known there. Clinton people still refuse to believe that he is a backslider but argue that the nervous strain to which he was subjected in conducting meetings brought reaction, and the system called for stimulants.

McConnell had been a hard drinker but had reformed, so they argued that when he took one drink he was gone and when he regained consciousness he at once sought the sanitarium as a place of refuge where he might fight out the battle with modern science to help him.

SOME WELL KNOWN FACES

A Monument For Fremont's Grave.

The mortal remains of General John C. Fremont, the famous Pathfinder, who died in 1890, were recently laid at rest in a plot commanding a magnificent view of the Hudson river near Sparkill, N. Y. The monument which Mrs. Fremont proposes to erect on the spot has already been designed. It will be a simple shaft of granite, with bronze wreath and inscriptions. The striking feature, the cross at the top, is particularly appropriate, as the Pathfinder's ways marked his discoveries with the sign of the cross.

One of the Heroes of the War.

General Franz Sigel, one of the rapidly lessening number of prominent survivors of the great civil war, recently celebrated his seventieth birthday at his home in Morrisania, N. Y. He is in excellent health for one of his advanced years, and although no longer an active factor in political affairs he is still very much interested in the adopted country for which he so gallantly fought. He was born in Baden and came to this country in 1852. His services as an officer of the Union army during the civil war made him famous.

The "Conjugal Jack Pot."

D. Lindsay Russell, a young lawyer of Detroit, has organized a unique club called the Bachelors' Mutual Benefit and Matrimonial Insurance association. Its object is to accumulate a "conjugal jack pot or trust fund" by means of monthly dues of $1 a member. Of this sum 10 per cent is to be paid on the day of marriage to the successful young lady who opens the jack pot by entering into a matrimonial alliance with any member of the association. The remaining bachelors belonging to the club stay in the game, of course.

A Buddhist Missionary to America.

Americans who are interested in foreign missionary work will find plenty of novelty in the following remarks by Gimyo Adachi, a Buddhist missionary who recently landed in San Francisco from Japan. "No: I do not think I am at all presumptuous in endeavoring to convert America to Buddhism," he said.

GIMYO ADACHI.

"My faith has existed for thousands of years, and it has benefited all those who have adhered to it. My faith is that of imperial Japan and is the true Buddhism. I think I could convince you of its truth if you would listen without prejudice. It is not a revolting religion, and it asks nothing more than that men shall be pure and do right to others. I shall give especial attention to seeing that the Japanese in America do not take up any of the strange faiths that are common here. Some of them are drifting into Christianity, which is not an honor. When Americans see the beauty and goodness of my faith, they will wish to learn it, and many will become Buddhists of my order."

Special Tax Notice.

State of Wisconsin, county of Rock, ss. Jan. 16, 1895. To whom it may concern. I hereby give notice that I intend to make application to the circuit court for the county of Rock on the first day of the January term to be held in the court room in the city of Janesville on the 28th January 1895, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day or as soon thereafter as the same can be heard for a judgment against the several lots, lands, pieces and parcels of lands described in a report there and then to be made and filed with the clerk of said court for the unpaid special taxes for paving East and West Milwaukee, streets levied by the common council of the city of Janesville in the year 1894, and all persons interested therein are requested to attend such term of said court and offer their defense, if any they may have, to such application.

JAS. A. FATHERS,
Treas. City of Janesville.

Poor Indeed!

The prospect of relief from drastic cathartics for persons troubled with constipation is poor indeed. True they act upon the bowels, but this they do with violence, and their operation tends to weaken the intestines, and is prejudicial to the stomach. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an effective laxative, but it neither gripes nor enfeebles. Furthermore, it promotes digestion and a regular action of the liver and the kidneys. It is an efficient barrier against and remedy for malarial complaints and rheumatism, and is of great benefit to the weak, nervous and aged. As a medicinal stimulant it cannot be surpassed. Physicians cordially recommend it, and its professional endorsement is fully borne out by popular experience. Appetite and sleep are both improved by this agreeable invigorant and alternative.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth,

Be sure and use that old and welltried remedy, Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

CURES OTHERS

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system. Cures morning sickness, weak stomach, indigestion or dyspepsia, "female weakness" and kindred ailments.

Mrs. MAMIE DEMBY, of 1503 Saratoga Street, Baltimore, Md., writes: "For three years I suffered from what my doctor called womb trouble. I cannot find language to describe the tortures I suffered. Sixteen weeks ago, I began to use your medicine, and now feel better and stronger than I have felt for years, in fact, my health is thoroughly restored and there are no signs of any return of my former trouble. I owe it all to your wonderful 'Favorite Prescription,' which I shall always praise wherever I go."

Her Dig.

I've heard about the mean things women can pleasantly say to each other, but could scarcely keep my countenance when listening to two of my sex parrying verbal hatefulness the other day.

"There comes Ida Comstock," said my companion.

"Friend of yours?" I inquired.

"Oh, we pretend to be!" was the reply, "but she's a cat and she'll give me a dig before we part."

"Well, you are prepared for her, at any rate," thought I, but said nothing. Up floated Miss Comstock.

"Sweet day; so glad to see you," and all the rest of it. While prolonging her good-by she remarked, smilingly:

"What an awful swell you are! that's such a pretty dress! that color used to be so fashionable."—N. Y. Recorder.

Cause and Effect.

"How old are you, sonny?"

"Twelve years old."

"You are very small for your age. What's your name?"

"My name is Johnny Smith. My father is a baker on Third avenue."

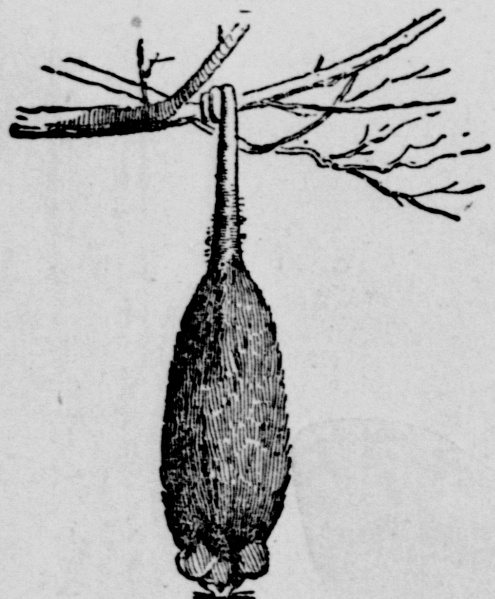

"So your father is a baker. I might have guessed it by your size. You remind me of his loaves."—Tammany Times.

The Exception.

Though in this rapid transit age To shorten all things is the rage; Though novel, sermon, poem and play Grow briefer with each hurrying day, One bulwark still defies endeavor— A kiss is just as long as ever.

Fond Mother—Well, the little un's very bad, to be sure. But it don't seem to 'ave done the t'other un' no 'arm as yet!—London Punch.

Wanted Amusement.

Hostess—I will have to leave you a little while. What can I do for your amusement while I am out?

Little Visitor—I wish you would let me look at your family album.

"Do you think you will enjoy that?"

"I guess so. Mamma says everybody laughs over it."—Good News.

For the Fair Sex.

"Won't it be lovely when we girls vote?" said Mrs. Bobleigh.

"Yes," replied Mrs. Giddithing. "Only I do hope they'll leave enough room on the ballots for a postscript."—Washington Star.

Mother—Yes, I bought another copy. I've read it all through, but I can't see anything wrong about it. It's an article on the healthfulness of housework.—N. Y. Weekly.

He Had Authority.

Lecturer—Where did the liquor habit have its beginning?

De Tanque—In the Garden of Eden.

Lecturer—How can you verify that?

The virtues of the water is as great at the present day as it was in the time of Charles II., and although the expense attached to a journey thither is not as great now as it was then, we are not all wealthy enough to undertake it.
